- The distance between the Sydney airport and Wollongong is about 75km. The best way to travel from the airport to Wollongong is by train. The train station is located at the airport. There is no direct trains from airport to Wollongong. We would suggest you to change train at Sydney Central Station. I.e, you catch a Wollongong train at the Central. You purchase a Wollongong ticket (do not need to get two tickets for changing train). Timetable can be found from <http://www.cityrail.com.au/timetable/ttable.jsp?line=sc&day=wd&dir=dn>

If you do not have much luggage, then you can get off the train at North Wollongong station. It is about 15 minutes to Novotel (walking). Or, you get off at Wollongong Station. You can then find a taxi at the station. Please google it by google map... If you travel during night, we would suggest you take a taxi from Wollongong Station to your hotel. It is about 1-3 km, depending on the location of the hotel. There is no any waiting taxi at The North Wollongong Station.

The ticket costs around AUS $20, depending on travel time.

- You can find a shuttle bus at the airport. You should ask the Information Desk for a service. The cost is about $45.
