Welcome to the sixth edition of the Peer-2-Peer Bulletin! This week we’re taking it easy in the run up to mid-session break with the ancient sport of bocce. Don’t forget to email arts100-enquiries@uow.edu.au if you have any questions of comments.

Learning Development Workshops

Essay Writing A

Tuesday 19th of April

Room 11.210 12:30pm - 1:30pm

The perfect way to get back into your studies, this workshop answers all your questions on referencing, structuring a top quality essay and writing academically. Investing an hour here will see huge returns over the course of your degree.

Workshops

Yoga

11am - 12 noon

URAC

Want to unwind and loosen up before the mid-semester break? Try an introductory session of Yoga for only $5.

Yoga originated in India and refers to a combination of meditative physical practices that bring your body and mind into harmony. Sounds like a perfect remedy for all those big nights out and all-nighters trying to get that next paper in.

UniMovies

True Grit and Morning Glory

Wednesday 6th of April

7:15pm - $5 at the door

Calls for Applications

UOW Fashion Week

4th - 5th of May

If you’re an aspiring designer or model get your applications in now by heading to the Centre for Student Engagement’s office in Building 17 or online at http://unicentre.uow.edu.au/getinvolved/UOW076668.html.

Prizes include male and female fashion wardrobes from event sponsors, hair packages from Wollongong Campus Hair Salon, a Model Etiquette class with Impact Promotions, a display in the Wollongong Central Winter Fashion campaign throughout June, and a profile on both the Wollongong Central and UOW Fashion Week page and more.
Alumni Profile

Name: Jessica Lauren Szulerowski
Year first enrolled at UoW: 2007
Degree Program Graduated: 2010
Major/s: English Literature and Media and Cultural Studies
Current Occupation: Working at Disney World in Orlando Florida in their College Program
Extracurricular activities undertaken while at UoW: Member of Uniting Spiritually
Paid employment undertaken at UoW: Youth Worker at Kiama Uniting Church

Where are you now and what are you plans for the future?
Right now, I’m working at Disney World. This has always been a dream of mine, and now I’m finally doing it. I’m working at one of their resorts right now in Merchandise, and I love it. In July I’ll move into Attractions, and will be working one of the many rides, or working in one of the shows, It’s a great experience right now. I’m learning a lot.

What message or advice would you like to pass on to students in their first few weeks of an arts degree?
Do NOT be afraid to ask questions. It’s how you learn! Ask, ask, ask!

What was your most valuable experience during your time at the University of Wollongong?
Learning to become more independent with my studies, especially when it came to editing my papers, I still needed help with that, but I gradually got better with finding my mistakes on my own. Being a learning difference student, it was really hard for me at times. My Professors were always willing to help, so I also learned not to be afraid to ask them questions.

Did you plan your degree path at any stage during your studies?
I wanted to do English Literatures from the start, that never changed. I stayed to the plan I made, and added Media and Cultural Studies because it interested me, and I thought it would open more doors.