

Implementing a web-based e-portfolio support system for teacher education students

Dr Sue Bennett
Faculty of Education

A Web-based e-portfolio system for teacher education students This project will support the development of an e-portfolio support system for education students based on the New South Wales Institute of Teachers' Professional Teaching Standards. This project will include: (1) support strategies for students to assist them select and represent their work to demonstrate they have met the standards for pre-service teachers; (2) support for university staff to allow them to identify opportunities for students to integrate university work into their portfolios; and (3) support for teachers supervising practicum to assist students reflect on their experiences and integrate materials they develop.