SUBJECT DESCRIPTION

The subject provides an overview of the ways accounting and finance researchers identify, formulate and investigate empirical questions. The topics include: the criteria adopted to select research projects, assumptions about methodologies, knowledge and research, issues of experimental design, validity threats, measurement problems and statistical analysis. Selected published accounting and finance research will be used to illustrate established methods of empirical research.
OBJECTIVES

The subject has been designed to enable you to understand a range of research methods and methodologies having both an appreciation of the theoretical and practical implications of their application.

The subject has been designed in collaboration with two faculties and draws on their expertise. The subject is segmented into 3 modules:
- module 1: statistical analysis
- module 2: survey methods
- module 3: case study analysis.

Accordingly the student will be exposed to a range presentation styles, research methods and perspectives. It is expected that students will be able to design, implement as well as understand the theoretical implications of the three methods.

WORKLOAD

This is a 6 credit point subject and it is expected that the student (you) spends a minimum of 12 hours per week of class contact and private study.

SEMINARS

Structure:

There will be:
- one two hour seminar per week
- on Monday 2.30pm to 4.30pm
- in Room 19.1056

Learning Objectives of Seminars:

These seminars are designed to stimulate interest in the topic, to challenge, and to stimulate independent study. The seminars will be interactive and led by your module lecturer.

Learning Objectives:

Your weekly preparation for seminars will include sharing your understanding, questions and comments as well as participating in discussions. These skills are also important in the long term since your role as professionals will require participating in meetings, boards, committees of management or project teams as well as research teams. This process also provides practice in formulating clear and articulate answers for exams.

PRESCRIBED READING

There will be selected readings from articles, books, and other sources that will be made available on the web as e-readings where possible, or available in the resources room.

There is no prescribed text for the whole subject, although there will be specified readings identified on the web for each week and in each module.
OTHER REFERENCES

There are many references that you can seek to augment your reading. Here is an example of some:

WEBPAGE

The webpage can be accessed on http://www.uow.edu.au/LOL.

Seminar notes:
There will be some notes to supplement the seminar, and on occasions there will be specific lecture notes.

Announcements:
There will also be announcements from time to time, which will be made in seminars.

Cover pages:
There will also be cover pages for the assessment and proformas or guidelines for the reports. These will be available after week 2 of the semester.

SECTION B ASSESSMENT

Penalties for late submission of assessment
Assessed work must be handed in by the date and time given. Assessed work handed in late can be penalised by the deduction (from the mark given to the assessed work) of 5 percentage points per 24 hours of the weekday or part thereof. The operation of this rule will not result in a negative mark being carried forward.

Plagiarism
Plagiarism means using the ideas of someone else without giving them proper credit. For example, that someone else may be an author, critic, journalist, artist, composer, seminar, tutor or another student. Unintentional plagiarism can result if you don’t understand and use the acceptable scholarly methods of acknowledgement. Whether plagiarism is deliberate or unintentional, the University may impose penalties, which can be very severe. When it is desirable, or necessary, to use other people's material, take care to include appropriate references and attribution. Plagiarism will not be tolerated and has led to expulsion from the University.
Students should visit the following University website and become familiar with the University’s policy on Plagiarism. http://www.uow.edu.au/handbook/courserules/plagiarism.html

SECTION C: RULES, CODES OF PRACTICE & POLICIES

C1 University Policies

Information on the following University Policies can be found at the websites below:

<table>

<tr>
<th>Policy</th>

</table>

* see brief explanation of policy below.

C1.1 Non-discriminatory Language

The Faculty of Commerce supports the University’s policy on the use of non-discriminatory language. It is the responsibility of students to ensure that they understand and abide by this policy. The policy is available at:

http://staff.uow.edu.au/eeo/nondiscrimlanguage.html

C1.2 Special Consideration Policy

The Faculty of Commerce recognises that it has a responsibility to ensure equity and consistency across its subjects for all students. Sometimes, in exceptional circumstances, students need to apply for special consideration in order to complete all assessable work.

The University applies strict criteria to the granting of special consideration. Before applying for special consideration students should carefully read the University’s policy. The policy can be found at:

C1.3 Student Academic Grievance Policy

The Faculty of Commerce aims to provide a fair, equitable and productive learning environment for all its students. The Student Academic Grievance Policy seeks to support the achievement of this goal by providing a transparent and consistent process for resolving student academic grievances.
Any student who has a grievance over a result should obtain a Faculty of Commerce Appeal of Assessment Form from the Schools or the Sub-Dean’s Unit. The student should firstly take the form to the marker/seminarr to discuss the matter and, if the student is still not satisfied, s/he should take the next step as outlined on the form.

Once the grievance has been considered by the Faculty, if the student still feels the situation has not been fully resolved s/he may consult the Dean of Students. However, the Dean of Students can have no input into the academic judgement of the seminarr and can only review the grievance to ensure proper procedure has been followed.

For more information, please consult the policy in full at http://www.uow.edu.au/handbook/courserules/studacgrievpol.html

Referencing

WHY DO YOU NEED TO REFERENCE?

At University it is necessary to acknowledge the sources of information and ideas that you have incorporated in your assignments. Failure to do this thoroughly may result in accusations of plagiarism: this is the academic equivalent of stealing (because by not acknowledging someone else's work, you are presenting it as your own). Plagiarism is taken very seriously by the University and may result in expulsion from the University.

Referencing is not only about acknowledging other people's work: accurate referencing and lists of references are beneficial when researching a topic as they allow the reader to follow up information and read further into the area. In a sense, references provide readers with clues to help them explore different avenues of a topic. This aspect of referencing will become more valuable to you as you progress in your studies.

There is a correct procedure that must be followed when referencing and using footnotes. Not complying with these set techniques and format will most likely result in loss of marks.

When writing an essay it is easiest to reference as you go, making sure you are writing down all relevant information. This will save hours trying to find the source again in the library.

THE HARVARD SYSTEM OF REFERENCING

The Faculty of Commerce uses the Harvard system of referencing. This system makes use of short references within the body of the text. It is supplemented by a detailed list of references at the end of the text, which provides all the information necessary to find the source material. In-text references include the author and year of publication, and where necessary the page number(s).

It is the responsibility of students to ensure that they are familiar with the Harvard system of referencing and that they use it accurately in all written work submitted.

Students should consult the following University Library website for a detailed explanation and examples of the Harvard system of referencing.

Citation of Electronic Sources

It is necessary for students to reference all sources used in their written work, including file transfer protocol sites, worldwide web sites, telnet sites, synchronous communications (MOOs, MUDs, IRC, etc.) GOPHER sites, and email, Listserv and Newsgroup citations. It is the responsibility of students to ensure that they are familiar with the accepted Faculty of Commerce practice for referencing electronic material and that they use it accurately in all written work submitted. Students should consult the following University Library website for a detailed explanation and examples of how to reference electronic material.

Learning Resource Centre

Learning Development offers a range of free services to all enrolled students who wish to improve their academic or English language skills. There are a range of workshops available including; essay writing and editing; reading for assignments; grammar; presentation skills; pronunciation and exam preparation. For information on language and academic skills workshops, or to make appointments for consultations, please visit the Learning Resource Centre (LRC), Building 19, Ground Floor, Room G102, or Phone 02 4221 3977. educational advice and referral to appropriate staff on issues related to teaching and learning within the Faculty and the University. Students are advised to communicate specific information about the ways in which their disability affects learning to the Faculty Disability Adviser as soon as possible after enrolment.
