

WHAT THEY SAID

Sam Hill, 22, Waterfall, Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)
Today is the end of my uni life and the start of my working life. I'm going to miss my friends at uni, but we'll keep in touch. I've got a graduate job lined up in designing air-conditioning units in Unanderra.

Edward Bruce, 22, Fairy Meadow, Bachelor of Engineering
I'm finished. This means closure, that another part of my life is done. The uni lifestyle was great, but I guess that's going to have to change now. I've got to find a job.

Rachelle Balez, 24, Wombarra, Bachelor of Creative Arts
The graduation ceremony is a nice tradition to be part of. This is something to show for three of the five years I've been at uni. I've got six months of a science degree left and I plan to do honours in science. My aim is to be a scientist.

Alicia Simes, 22, Figtree, Bachelor of Journalism
It's a very proud moment to finish the pilot Bachelor of Journalism degree. I've had a fantastic time, made tonnes of friends and been part of a great university. I want to get into media or public relations when I get back from an overseas holiday.

Elise Gage, 23, Caringbah, Bachelor of Arts
This is my reward for three years of hard work. I'm pleased to have my family here who have supported me. I'm going overseas for 2½ months, but I've applied to do a diploma of education, so I'll come back next year and hopefully graduate a teacher.

Sandra Siagian, 22, Caringbah, Bachelor of Journalism and Bachelor of Communication
I've been here for five years, so this is the closure of not just uni but my entire schooling years. It's sad in some ways but also exciting. I have a cadetship lined up with the St George & Sutherland Shire Leader.

Glenn Hamblen, 28, Wollongong, Masters in Strategic Management and Marketing
It's a relief to be here now. I worked full-time and studied part-time for four years. There's no more always feeling like I should be studying. I'm working for the uni doing e-marketing.

Tony Ceo, 25, Gwynneville, Masters in Professional Accounting
Today will be a memory of lots of hard work over the past two years. It's a good university to study at; I've made lots of friends. I want to be an accountant, but I'm still looking for a job.

Pijush Sen, 28, Rockdale, Masters in Professional Accounting
Today is very special for me as I graduated when I was 24, then came back to study at 26, so this is the outcome of two years of work. Travelling from Rockdale each day was difficult, and I had a part-time job as well. I might go back to Bangladesh and look for a job.

Mery Temelkovska, 23, Flinders, Masters in Applied Finance
I'm celebrating because it feels like all the hard work and stress have finally been rewarded. I've loved studying here - my masters year was probably the best year of my time at uni. I'd really like to get into funds management.

Lauren Ellitt, 21, Wollongong, Bachelor of Commerce (Dean Scholar)
I've made it and I'm about to go into the big, wide world. Studying here has been great. In the future I hope to combine overseas travel with working for a big international marketing company.

Blair Wood, 22, Bondi, Bachelor of Commerce
This is a milestone. To finish the HSC is one thing, but to come here and study something I'm really interested in is fantastic. I'm very happy today, I've finally reached the goal in my life. The next step is to get a real job, which I hope is in advertising, public relations or marketing.

Michael Boscosuro, 24, Albion Park, Bachelor of Commerce (Dean Scholar)
This is the end of a long journey that involved lots of effort and lots of study. I've now got something behind me. I've been here for 4½ years, and that time has now paid off. I'm already working as a chartered accountant.

Elly Nubley, 23, Balgownie, Bachelor of Commerce (Dean Scholar)
Today marks a big achievement after 4½ years of study. It's all coming to an end; now I'm beginning my career. I already work full-time for an accounting firm in Wollongong.

GRADUATIONS ON FRIDAY, JULY 23
