

Master of Strategic Marketing

Faculty of Commerce

University of Wollongong

Weekend teaching commencing 2012

Commencing in 2012, a range of core and elective subjects for the Master of Strategic Marketing will be offered through weekend delivery, with lectures and tutorials over four weekends each semester. This mode of delivery will allow students registered for part time* study the flexibility to undertake the taught components of the course entirely through weekends. The course provides graduates with the capabilities to better understand marketing, research marketing problems, develop marketing strategies, enhance brand management skills and communicate with a diverse set of stakeholders including consumers, employees, suppliers, industry leaders and governments.

Delivery of Lectures

Students undertaking the part time Master of Strategic Marketing may follow one of two modes – choosing lectures and tutorials delivered in blocks of teaching spread across four weekends or by following the normal 13 week format per semester. Students may also elect to combine modes and undertake a mix of weekend delivery subjects and 13 week subjects within the course.

Part time Masters of Strategic Marketing - weekend delivery mode (4 weekends per semester)

	Autumn 2012	Spring 2012	Autumn 2013	Spring 2013
Compulsory Subjects	Strategic Brand Management	Consumer Behaviour	Marketing Strategy	Research for Marketing Decisions
Electives Subjects	Marketing Communications	Social Marketing	International Marketing Strategy	Managing Services and Relationship Marketing

Weekend delivery mode elective subjects may be replaced with an elective from the subjects listed below. These are offered via the normal 13 week semester format:

13 week elective subjects - non weekend delivery (subject to availability and demand)

Spring 2012 - Elective Subjects
Tourism Marketing
Public Relations for Innovation and Change
Managing Services and Relationship Marketing
Internet Applications for Marketing
Creating and Marketing New Products
Marketing Special Topic

Further information about subject content can be found in the Postgraduate Handbook available here.
