

Faculty of Informatics Dean's Scholars Program Application for Current Students

The Dean's Scholars Degree offers a challenging and enriched educational experience for high-achieving students who want to perform above the level normally expected.

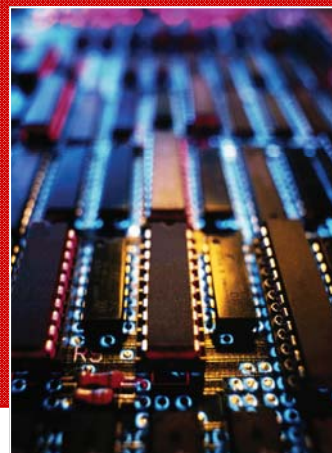

Entry will be considered for current Informatics students who have completed one year of full-time study within the Faculty and have achieved a Weighted Average Mark (WAM) of 80.

Dean's Scholars must maintain an WAM of 75 in each year of study to complete the program.

Dean's Scholars will complete all requirements for their respective degrees and, where possible, may be permitted to take an accelerated program. Dean's Scholars will receive special privileges including extended internet quota, extended Library access, $500 book allowance per year (pro rata per session) and access to an academic mentor.

The programs are a distinction easily recognisable to future employers, giving you an edge in competitive employment situations. Students will need to complete and submit the below application form.
