

The 20th Chemistry & IPRI Conference 2006

The UoW Chemistry Department Conference has a proud history with an unbroken lineage since it was introduced in 1987 at Braemar by that maverick head of department Professor Leon Kane-Maguire and (then) rising star Professor Gordon Wallace.

And what a wonderful event it promises to be again in 2006 with your hosts Di Jolley and Steve Blanksby. The exact plans are still taking shape, however, we have a few important details for you to note down in your diaries:

- Date: Sunday 22nd - Tuesday 24th October, 2006
- Location: Jervis Bay Field Station
- Accommodation: Bunk rooms – so find a buddy.
(separate female and male areas)
- Cost: $30/night for staff and $20/night for students (includes 1 night accommodation, lunch, dinner & breakfast)
- Transport: Shared transport will be available.
- Food: Lots of it! Special dietary requirements can also be catered for.

All 1st and 2nd year PhD students are required to give a presentation (15mins + 5 mins for questions. Don't worry it's a warm and friendly audience!), several staff members will also be presenting on their research and other interests...be afraid!

A formal call for presentations (titles) will be made in coming weeks.

The DRAFT conference program is below.
