Promoting teaching: international benchmarking of recognition of teaching in academic promotion

UOW’s work in improving promotion for teaching has been recognised internationally: contrary to belief, promotion based on teaching ranked number 1 at UOW achieves similar success rates to promotion based on research ranked number 1, that is, in any one year there is between 80% and 100% success rate. This is compared with reported success rates in the UK of around 30%.

The UK Higher Education Academy has granted just under $400,000 for UOW and three other universities (two in the UK) to benchmark their promotion processes and develop guidelines for use by all universities in the UK and Australia.

The project has developed a Good Practice Framework, Good Practice Examples and Good Practice Evidence as well as a Guide to Institutional Review and Benchmarking.
