Smart Foods Key Centre

Nutrient Sources:

Plant biology and livestock growth and metabolism studies to provide leaner meat products and improve the delivery of beneficial nutrients into the food supply.

Identification of novel food plants and enhancement of nutrient levels/balance in plants, meat and eggs.

Key Nutrients:

Laboratory and community based studies to examine actions and health benefits of fatty acids, antioxidants, phytoestrogens and other specific nutrients. Includes biochemical and physiological investigations into processes of oxidation and metabolism as they relate to heart, vascular and muscle function in health and disease.

Bioavailability:

Facilities are in place for the identification and accurate measurement of nutrients in foods and the human body.

Clever Cuisine:

Research aimed at bringing together beneficial macro and micronutrients into a whole cuisine optimised for metabolic fitness and prevention of conditions like diabetes, obesity, hypertension and cardiac disease.

Consumer Insights:

Identification and understanding of factors that influence healthy food choices, including good policy, food labelling and consumer information sources combined with surveys of consumer preferences and sensory evaluation of foods.

Entry Requirements / Assumed Knowledge

Candidates must have an Honours Bachelor degree of at least four years duration, and have achieved Honours Class 2 Division 2 or higher, or completed a Master by Research degree. In addition, a primary supervisor in the relevant academic unit must be identified prior to commencing the program. International students are required to have achieved an IELTS score of 6.0, with a level of 6.0 in reading and writing and at least 5.0 in speaking and listening. Requirements are higher in some programs.

Course Requirements

Study at the Doctoral level, usually for a minimum of 3 years full time, is by advanced research thesis. Potential candidates should discuss their research plan with the Postgraduate Research Coordinator of the School/Department, at which time the supervision arrangements of the School/Department will be outlined.

Rules and procedures for Doctoral degrees by Thesis are listed in the Course Rules. Doctoral candidates are urged to be familiar with the Code of Practice - Supervision and General Course Rules governing Thesis and Research Degrees including the regulations regarding preparation and submission of the thesis.

In the Graduate School of Public Health program, a detailed research proposal must be submitted for examination at about one third of the duration of the candidature. This examination must be passed successfully for the candidature to be allowed to continue, and must have taken place within 1 year of commencing the candidature (full time or part time equivalent).

Overview

This program aims to equip candidates with both clinical and research training at high levels of expertise. The coursework and practical provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the principles governing psychological assessment and therapy, and clinical skills required to assess and treat clients with a wide variety of clinical conditions in both child and adult populations. Candidates also undertake in-depth research in order to make an original contribution to the body of knowledge in clinical psychology. The clinical training enables the candidate to practise as a clinical psychologist, and the research training can lead to or enhance an academic career and is highly regarded by public and private sector employers.

Entry Requirements / Assumed Knowledge

Candidates must have a superior honours degree in Psychology of at least four years duration of Class II, Division 1 standard or higher. Entry is very competitive and is particularly suitable for students with PhD Scholarships. Applicants must submit two referees' reports, a personal statement, and attend a selection interview.

International students are required to have achieved an IELTS score of 6.5 overall, with at least 6.0 in all bands, reading and writing, speaking and listening.

Course Requirements

Students should consult the information on Criminal Records Checks, Prohibited Employment Declaration and infectious diseases at end of this chapter.

Doctor of Public Health

Testamur Title of Degree:	Doctor of Public Health
Abbreviation:	DPH
Home Faculty:	Faculty of Health & Behavioural Science
Duration:	3 years or part-time equivalent
Total Credit Points:	48 cp per annum
Delivery Mode:	Supervised individual research and face-to-face classes
Starting Session(s):	Autumn/Spring
Standard Course Fee:	$8,350AUD per session (international)
Location:	Wollongong
UOW Course Code:	204
CRICOS Code:	00102E

Overview

The Doctor of Public Health is a professional doctorate degree granted on successful completion of an approved program of coursework, in addition to an independent and original investigation of a significant problem in public health and the presentation of the research as an acceptable thesis. This degree prepares students for leadership positions in the health sector that require advanced analytical or conceptual capabilities. Students should consult the information under the Doctor of Philosophy for information about the department's research areas.

Entry Requirements / Assumed Knowledge

To qualify for entry to the program, candidates must have a Master of Public Health degree or equivalent, usually at credit level or higher, or an Honours Bachelor degree of at least Class II, Division 2 standard in a relevant discipline, followed by the equivalent of one year of full-time relevant and approved postgraduate study.

Students should preferably have two or more years of appropriate professional experience and have demonstrated potential capacity for leadership in the area of specialisation. Applicants should submit a record of professional experience and names of two appropriate referees. International students are required to have achieved an IELTS score of 6.0, with a level of 6.0 in reading and writing and at least 5.0 in speaking and listening.

Course Requirements

The DPH usually takes three years of full-time study. It includes a coursework component and a research component. There will be no advanced standing granted for previous graduate study at Masters level. The coursework involves a maximum of one year of full-time study (48 credit points) in both required and elective courses. The research component of the program involves at least two years of full-time enrolment, undertaking a thesis following completion of the coursework component. Progression to the research component requires the development of a suitable research proposal, at the end of which the student sits a qualifying examination. On successful completion of the qualifying examination, the student undertakes the research under supervision. At the end of this period the student will submit a thesis for examination under the regulations for Doctoral Theses of the University. Individual coursework programs should be decided in conjunction with the intended supervisor for the research and the Head of School. The coursework must be passed with a credit average mark to allow progression into the research component of the course.

Applicants who have not had a background in public health may be advised to take the four core subjects listed below. Some applicants may be advised to undertake specialised programs in preparation for their research.

Course Program

Subjects (by year)	Session	Credit Points
GHMD905 Social Foundations of Public Health	Autumn	6
GHMD983 Statistics in Health Research	Autumn	6
GHMD904 Epidemiology	Spring	6
GHMD984 Health Research Methodology	Spring	6
THES924 Thesis for full-time students	Annual	48
THES912 Thesis for part-time students		24
Full-time students are required to submit their theses no later than eight academic sessions from the date of candidature.

Other Information

Through an agreement with the School of Public Health, University of California (Berkeley), it is expected that selected Doctor of Public Health students will be able to spend one session at the University of California (Berkeley) advancing research and/or coursework interests which are part of their approved program of study.

Master of Midwifery - Research

Testamur Title of Degree:	Master of Midwifery - Research
Abbreviation:	MMid-Res

Overview

The Postgraduate Diploma in Psychology is a fourth year of study, accredited by the Australian Psychological Society, for graduates with a major in Psychology. It is an alternative to the Honours degree. It is a partial qualification for registration as a Psychologist with the Psychologists' Registration Board of New South Wales – a post diploma period of supervision also being required.

The Postgraduate Diploma is not intended as a route to PhD studies but it can serve as a 4th year preparatory to further postgraduate coursework degrees (eg. the Clinical Masters degree) at Wollongong and similar postgraduate courses in other universities. However, applicants should check with individual university departments on this matter before committing themselves to the course of study.

Entry Requirements / Assumed Knowledge

Eligibility for entry to the Postgraduate Diploma in Psychology program depends on the successful completion of Bachelor degree from the University of Wollongong with a major in Psychology or an equivalent qualification from another tertiary institution approved by the Council of the University of Wollongong and accredited by the Australian Psychological Society.

Entry to the Postgraduate Diploma is competitive and is based on academic qualifications. For the purposes of entry to the program we use the best 48 credit points from successfully completed 200- and 300- level Psychology subjects. International students are required to have achieved an IELTS score of 6.0, with at least 6.0 in reading and writing, and at least 5.0 in speaking and listening.

Other Information

Criminal Record Checks

As part of the 'whole of government' approach to child protection, the NSW Department of Health requires all students in health related courses to undergo a criminal record check. The criminal record check shall be completed before a student can attend any clinical placement in a Public Health facility.

Students need to give their consent to such a check and will submit a signed consent form through their university. Consent forms are available from universities. Checks are done through the NSW Police Service and coordinated by the Department of Health. At present there is no cost to either the student or university for this service.

When the check is completed the student will be issued with a Clearance Letter, which has to be produced whenever they attend a clinical placement. The Letter must not be photocopied or duplicated in any way. Lost, mislaid or mutilated Clearance Letters are replaced on application from the student with payment of a fee.

If a student receives a positive result from the check it will not necessarily exclude them from a clinical placement. Each situation will be individually assessed in a confidential consultation between the student and a representative of the Department of health.

An additional requirement came into effect with new child protection legislation enacted in July 2000. The university will provide another form to the student called the Prohibited Employment Declaration. The Declaration must also be completed prior to any clinical placement. The completed and signed declaration is returned to the university and will be held by us. The Health Department does not issue or administer this form.

Infectious Diseases

Students required to complete clinical training in the NSW hospital system will be subject to various guidelines and procedures laid down for health workers by the NSW Department of Health, including guidelines regarding infectious diseases.

In the hospital system, you will be exposed to a large number and variety of individuals, some of whom may have a communicable disease such as tuberculosis, measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, HIV or Hepatitis B. This may place you at risk of acquiring one of these diseases. In other cases, if you have a communicable disease, you may place your clients at risk.

For your protection, and for the protection of your potential clients, you are recommended to have vaccinations before you begin clinical work. Evidence of your vaccination status may be required by certain clinical placements/agencies before attendance. If your vaccinations are incomplete, opportunities for placement may be limited and your progress in the course could be affected.

Some categories of health care workers – nurses, doctors, dentists, dental technicians, podiatrists and physiotherapists – also have regulated individual responsibility with regard to infection control. You should familiarise yourself with these responsibilities.

Health care workers who are either HIV antibody positive or Hepatitis B e-antigen or Hepatitis B DNA positive or Hepatitis C PCR positive must not perform exposure prone procedures. Expert medical advice should be obtained by infected people on their infectious status and the extent to which this may limit their clinical practice.
