The Future is Here Now: A Smorgasbord of Educational Technologies

You are invited to a one day mini-conference for University of Wollongong staff and other interested educators on:

Innovations and Research in Educational Technologies

When: Wednesday 26th September 2007
9.00am - 4.30pm

Where: HOPE Theatre - Building 40
(Commerce Faculty Building, University of Wollongong)

UOW staff can register for the mini-conference via Webkiosk

Interested staff from other institutions/organisations should phone CEDIR on 4221 3113 or email: cedir_workshops@uow.edu.au

Conference Aims

The aims of this conference are to present an overview of the many different ways educational technologies are currently being used within the University of Wollongong to enhance eTeaching and eLearning and to stimulate use in further innovative uses of these technologies.

Presentations will be made by researchers as well as those academics who are incorporating technologies in their teaching and learning and researching their own practice.

We hope that you will then be able to start considering the question:

“How can I do this in my class or at my desk with a bit of help?”

You are invited to come along for the whole day or a particular session that interests you.

Further details of the programme will be distributed as they are finalised closer to the date.

Who Should Attend?

This conference is aimed at all of the following groups:

- Academic staff who are looking for ways to be innovative in their teaching
- Staff considering curriculum review
- New academic staff
- Senior management
