Older patients' attitudes to general practice registrars: an interstate survey

Researchers: Dr. Andrew Bonney, Prof. Sandra C. Jones, Prof. Don Iverson, Dr. Christopher Magee, Ms Lyn Phillipson, Mr. Lance Barrie

PROJECT OVERVIEW:

This is the fourth phase of a multi-method study into the attitudes of older patients to GP registrars, designed to enable findings from a large, generalisable sample of Australian participants. The study was undertaken in collaboration with five Regional Training Providers: Western Australian General Practice Education and Training; GP Synergy; Adelaide to Outback GP Training Program; Gippsland Education and Training for General Practice; and Central and Southern Qld Training Consortium. Thirty eight general practices were involved in the study, with the aim of generating findings to assist the development of models of care that improve older patient-GP registrar interaction. Data collection has been completed and analysis is currently underway.