Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organisation (ANSTO)
Work Integrated Learning Scholarship

Number of Scholarships: One (1)
Area of Study: Creative Arts or Master of Multi-Media
Level of Enrolment: 2nd or 3rd Year
Duration of Scholarship: 1 Year
Value Per Annum: $15,000 per Scholarship

AINSE Ltd (AINSE) facilitates access to the special facilities at Lucas Heights by universities and other tertiary institutions and provides a focus for cooperation in the nuclear scientific and engineering fields. AINSE arranges for the training of scientific research workers and the award of scientific research studentships in matters associated with nuclear science and engineering.

To help facilitate co-ordinate and manage the awarding of the maintenance of these scholarships, AINSE requires a Grant Submission application to be developed. A high level specification has already been created which outlines the requirements for this new system.

The successful Creative Arts student will be required to come up with an overall visual design for the system and then mock up screen designs for each of the sections of the website. S/he will also be responsible for the overall sites information architecture and navigation. The student will be required to work with a Computer Science student to understand the users requirements as they develop the GUI and sites navigation.
