Who do you ask?

• Subject Co-ordinator & Tutor
• 1st-Year, or Undergraduate Co-ordinator in your Department
• Head of Department
• Sub-Dean
• Dean of Health & Behavioural Sciences
• Dean of Students of UoW
Student Responsibilities (Code of Practice)

- Become familiar with rules governing your degree
- Check your enrolment status before audit dates in each session 31\textsuperscript{st} March, 31\textsuperscript{st} August
- Check deadlines for withdrawal/addition of subjects
- Abide by policies outlined in the subject outlines (eg. referencing standards)
- Consult with appropriate academic staff if problems arise
- Become familiar with Department and subject co-ordination (non-Code)
Attendance

“Attend all lectures, tutorials, seminars and practical work as stipulated in subject outlines...” (Code of Practice)

• Subject instructors may/may not place lecture notes/graphics on the web
• A significant amount of information covered in lecture may not be in text books or reading materials
• Many learning activities may only be conducted in lectures, tutorials or seminars
Plagiarism

- Intentional and unintentional
- Avoid unintentional plagiarism by clarifying assignment requirements with subject co-ordinator (eg. group work)
- University has plagiarism detecting software
- Charges investigated by Faculty Investigation Committee and penalties imposed by FIC
- ARD maintains a plagiarism database
Special Considerations

- Use SOLS (Student On-Line Services) only for requests involving assignments counting ≥ 10% of subject grade
- Contact Tutor or Subject Co-ordinator for other requests
Internet Quota

- Includes email and web services
- Downloads from the Library databases are not counted
- Quota: 100Mb download/term from overseas sites, or 550Mb download/term from domestic sites
  Tip! Hotmail uses a lot of quota
- Notification of usage @ 25%, 50% & 75% (Warning)
- Access denied when quota is reached
- Appeals to Dean & Pro Vice-Chancellor (Academic)
What 1 (one) Mb (Megabyte) Represents

...and you have 100-500Mb depending on usage
