Patrick Crookes, Victoria Traynor, Lyn Phillipson & Sandra Jones (2006) “Internationalisation Agenda: Dementia Research and Education” UoW: UIC Grant
The aim of this project is to consolidate international collaborations between the UoW and the University of Stirling in the UK. The Stirling Dementia Services Development Centre is a unit with a reputation of international excellence in dementia care. In Spring 2006, Professor Crookes is visiting the USA and UK to further the internationalisation agenda of nursing at the University of Wollongong. Part of this visit will include meetings with colleagues at the University of Stirling to confirm how they will contribute to the work of the new $3.6 DoHA venture of the Eastern Australian Dementia Training and Study be based at UoW.
