

Peer Academic Coach

What is a Peer Academic Coach (PAC)?

A PAC is a senior student who has done well in their studies and has been trained to provide academic coaching for all students. PACs can provide one-on-one coaching consultations on a range of academic issues and study skills, such as how to approach an assignment or how to navigate Moodle.

PACs are not a proof reading service, but they are able to coach students to develop their own strong study tools, skills and guide students in the right direction to discover solutions for themselves.

How can a PAC consultation help you?

All students can benefit from coming to a PAC consultation. Whether students have a specific question or just want to talk to a successful student about how to develop necessary study skills, a PAC can cater for a range of academic abilities and skills.

Common questions asked

A PAC can discuss any academic issues including:

- How to navigate Moodle
- Interpreting a question
- What are the first steps when starting an essay
- How to effectively study for an exam
- How to manage a large study load

Alternatively a student can simply speak to a PAC about how they are going at uni— similar to a study health check!

Accessing a PAC

All PAC consultations are free and no appointments are necessary. PACs are located in the UOW Learning Co-Op, ground floor Library, Monday—Friday, 10am—4pm.
