Information Literacies Introductory Program (ILIP)

WHAT is Information Literacy?

Information literacy refers to the ability to locate, critically analyse, interpret, evaluate, and use information. It is essential not only at university but also in professional and private life.

WHAT is ILIP?

ILIP is an elementary introduction to research skills and the technology that will enable you to find information.

WHO must complete ILIP?

- ILIP100 is compulsory for all new undergraduates.
- ILIP009 is compulsory for all new postgraduate coursework students who have not completed the online undergraduate ILIP100 assignment in the past five years.
- While ILIP is not compulsory for postgraduate research students, it is strongly recommended.

WHEN must ILIP be completed?
Databases

Databases provide access to journal and newspaper articles and may also include conference papers, electronic books, theses, statistics, company and institution information, country and industry data, case law, legislation and legal commentary. Many provide full text whilst others provide citations and abstracts.

Use the A-Z title list if you know the title you want, otherwise check the faculty lists and also find more information under the icon next to each database title.

By title:

A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

By faculty, school or college:

Arts | Commerce | Creative Arts | Education | Engineering | Graduate School of Medicine | Health and Behavioural Sciences | Informatics | Law | Science | Wollongong University College

For researchers:

- Additional databases
- Email Alerts - keep up-to-date

Guides and tutorials

- What's WebBridge?
- Database guides - including information about:
  - truncation symbols
  - proximity searching
  - email alerts
  - use with endnote
